BUILDING; New building, scheduled for completion in 2022, in the new Bohema – Strefa Praga development . Equipped with modern elevators and underground parking.
The building is surrounded by a modern housing estate, with abundant greenery and a children's playground. The estate is car-free (underground parking lots have direct access from the street), which improves residents' safety and acoustic comfort in the apartments.

BOHEMA – Strefa Praga is a unique urban development project that aligns with the revitalization program in Warsaw's Praga district. It is being built on the site of the 19th-century Pollena cosmetics factory on Szwedzka Street. Here, residential, commercial, office, and cultural spaces intertwine, creating a new quality of life.
Residents will find a wealth of amenities and attractions here to enhance their daily lives. Residential buildings, offices, shops, cafes, service outlets, and entertainment venues are being built on the over four-hectare site, and a 19th-century factory building will be given new life. It will be a public space designated for artistic activities, such as concerts, performances, and an outdoor cinema. Numerous squares with diverse character, a wide shopping avenue, and the expansive area surrounding the chimney will soon ensure that this place will be filled with crowds.

TRANSPORT: The new SZWEDZKA metro station and bus stops are located right next to the development . Nearby, the city's main thoroughfares – Solidarności Avenue and the Żaba Junction – provide quick access to many districts of the city.
